

The 2010-2011 Slate of Nominees

At the Annual Meeting on Sunday, April 25, following the combined service at 10:00 am, the parish will elect officers and members of the Vestry, delegates to the Diocesan Convention and to our region of the Diocese—the Boston Harbor Deanery. This slate was posted for parish review on March 11 in the Narthex and online at www.trinitychurchboston.org.

The process began with the Nominating Committee, appointed each year by the Wardens and the Vestry, which accepted candidate names for consideration and compiled this slate of nominees after a review of all those recommended. The nominees were then approved by the Vestry. For 2010, the Nominating Committee included Chairperson Peter Lawrence, and members Rev. Anne B. Bonnyman, Rector; Bob Cowden, Senior Warden; Alex Burke, Junior Warden; Bill Mackey; Sandy Gardner; and Geoff Smith.

Laurie Buchta

Vestry, term of three years

Laurie began attending Trinity in 1987 after graduating from college and moving to Boston. A lifelong Episcopalian, she was drawn to the beautiful space, music, and sermons, and soon became involved in various ministries at Trinity.

Laurie has served in Membership, Childrens Ministries, the BeFriends program, DOCC, and a discernment committee. This year her family is excited to participate in their first Walk for Hunger. Laurie and her family greatly value the many friendships and walking with so many others on the journey of faith. She lives in Lexington with her husband, Jay, and children Emma (11) and Will (7).

N. Read Norton

Vestry, term of four years

Read began attending Trinity regularly after receiving an invitation to participate in a DOCC class in 2004. The vibrant community and breadth of offerings have kept him coming back. Read has served on Stewardship, the IT Committee, the Trinity:Next Committee, has attended and facilitated DOCC classes and has led volunteer trips to Honduras since 2002. He is a director of professional services at OpenAir in Boston and lives with his wife Jill and son Noah in Belmont. His mother Perry Colmore and step-father Chuck Medler are also Trinity members.

Anne Phillips Ogilby

Clerk, term of four years

Anne was baptized and married at Trinity and returned to Trinity in 1996 after a decade at a suburban church, drawn back by the joy and beauty of the services and the great youth and acolyte programs for her two children. She has served as a board member and clerk of the Trinity Boston Foundation. She is also a vestry member of her summer church in Maine and the board chair of the Cotting School in Lexington. Anne is a partner at the law firm of Ropes & Gray LLP and lives in Belmont with her husband and children.

G. Michael Schmidt

Vestry, term of four years

Michael has been attending Trinity since 1993. He has taken DOCC and Gospel classes, been active in Trinity's stewardship efforts and served as an advisor to St. Mary's Church in Dorchester for five years. He is currently a member of the Building Committee, the Walk for Hunger Steering Committee, and is an ex-officio member of the Art and Architecture Committee. He is a global operations manager for Teradyne, Inc., and lives on Beacon Hill with his wife, Linda.

Judith A. Steul

Vestry, term of four years

A parishioner since 1987, Judy is currently chair of the Art & Architecture Committee. She has co-chaired the Membership Committee and BeFriends Ministry, served on Trinity:Next, the Capital Campaign, Rector's Renovation Committee, three discernment committees, facilitated Inquirers' classes, participated in annual stewardship campaigns, DOCC, and been a TEEP volunteer.

Judy has worked in the computer industry and been a small business owner. She is a School Programs Guide at the Arnold Arboretum, avid sailor, gardener, art lover, and traveler. She and her husband, Bill, live in Brookline and have two grandchildren.

Elizabeth B. Gaskill

Delegate to Diocesan Convention, term of one year

Betsy Gaskill is a psychotherapist in private practice. She has attended Trinity since 1980, is a confirmed Episcopalian, and lives in Cambridge. She has served on several committees, including Grants and Discernment. Betsy has been a Lay Eucharistic Minister, an usher, and a DOCC facilitator, and she has been a facilitator at the Christianity and Literature Conference at Kanuga.

Jonathan Ralton

Delegate to Diocesan Convention, term of one year

Jonathan began attending Trinity in November of 2005 when he was looking for a new parish home to grow his faith in an affirming and vibrant community. He grew up on the South Shore as a member of Trinity Church in Marshfield, was involved with the Boston College chaplaincy in college, and eventually found Trinity after reading an article in the diocesan newsletter, Episcopal Times, about churches specifically targeting ministries and programs toward 20s and 30s. Jonathan is a regular attendee of the 6:00 pm service, has repeatedly taken advantage of Adult Christian Formation and retreat opportunities, and given his back his time and talent in many ways over the past four years. This has included serving as Lector, Lay Eucharistic Minister, and now Lay Liturgist, as well as participating as a member of the Information Technology Committee, Clergy Calling Committee, member of the Gay and Lesbian Fellowship Steering Committee, and now Chair. He attended Diocesan Convention as an observer last year. Jonathan lives in East Boston and recently started a new job as a senior consultant at an information technology consulting firm in Burlington.

Lallie B. Lloyd

Alternative to Diocesan Convention, term of one year

Lallie Lloyd began attending Trinity in November of 2008 when she first moved to Boston. Lallie comes to Trinity for the authenticity and beauty of worship, depth of teaching, and faithful engagement with contemporary issues. Lallie was a co-founder of the Millenium Goals Committee, has served on a discernment committee, and has taught Adult Formation. She has attended three General Conventions. Her passions include connecting faith to social justice action, writing, and rowing.

Janis Pryor

Alternative to Diocesan Convention, term of one year

Janis Pryor first came to Trinity to attend a funeral and started attending regularly thereafter. She decided to stay due to the formation of Trinity's Anti-Racism Team and a series of "coincidences" that kept drawing her closer to this community. She is now a member of Trinity's Anti-Racism Team and played a prominent role in organizing the visit of poet Nikki Giovanni. Trinity Church has become the anchor in her life. Throughout her work life, she has been professionally employed in politics and media on a local, state and national level.

Meghan T. Sweeney

Delegate to Boston Harbor Deanery, term of one year

Meghan Sweeney is involved in Christian Formation, served as a facilitator in the Gospel of John class; Neighborhood Action, and liturgical leadership. Meghan currently teaches in the PULSE Program for Service-Learning at Boston College. She is a Postulant for the Priesthood in the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts.

Kathleen E. Peets

Delegate to Boston Harbor Deanery, term of one year

Kathleen began attending Trinity in 1991. She has participated in DOCC, Inquirer's Class, and the Gospel Series. She has been a Lay Eucharistic Minister and is now a Lay Liturgist. She has been to Honduras on mission trips three years in a row and led the trip twice. She served on the Stewardship Committee. Kathleen lives in East Boston and works at Suffolk University where she is the Director of Creative Services.
